Make more effective decisions.

In this interactive workshop, we will examine decision making through two separate but inter-related lenses: decision quality and decision-making methods. Participants will learn how to assess decision quality through:

- Appropriate Decision Framing
- Creative Alternatives
- Reliable and Relevant Information
- Clear Values and Tradeoffs
- Sound Reasoning, and
- Commitment to Action

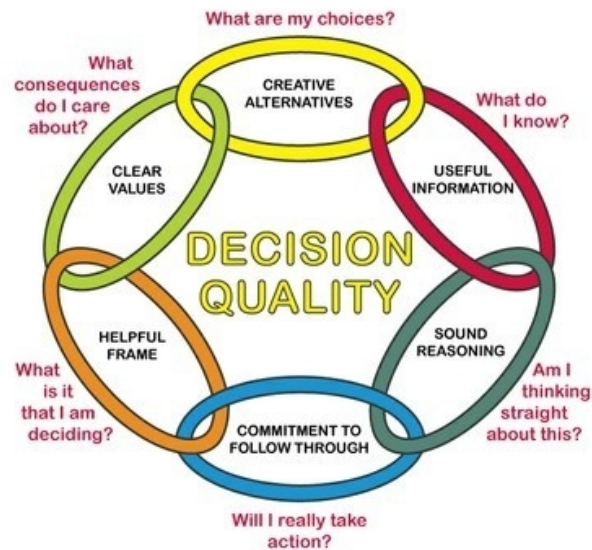

Participants will be provided with materials that place decision-making methods on a spectrum from “directive” top-down single decision-maker, to consensus or delegation of decision-making responsibilities.

Participants gain a clear understanding of a variety of considerations that lead to more effective and long-lasting decisions.

DURATION: Two hours

PARTICIPANTS: 10 minimum; 20 maximum
